Bellahs New Store Opened

ALFRED BELLAH

Bellah's New Super Market is announcing its formal opening Friday and Saturday in this edition of the Canyon News.

For several months, citizens of Canyon have been watching the construction of the new building at the southwest corner of the square which Bellah's now occupies, and waiting for its opening.

The firm opened at the new location Monday morning. A new stock of goods had been assembled during the past months, and this was supplemented from the store which has been operated by Bellah's on the west side of the square for many years.

With the newest equipment for a grocery store, Alfred Bellah and sons will be able to serve the people of Randall county better. Associated with Mr. Bellah are his three sons, J. C. and Robert, both of whom have been recently discharged from the armed forces, and Max.

Bellah's invites the people of Randall county to come in and shop for their grocery needs in an attractive addition to the business houses of Canyon.

Mr. Bellah says that he has made on disposition of his store on the west side. It will be a few weeks before all of the stock and fixtures are moved out. He has several offers from new business firms which wish to move here.

Assisting Coach Van Meter will be Hank Decker, Metz LaFollette, and Bill Miller.

The admission price to the pool will be 25 cents for all ages. This entitles the person to the free lessons, provided that he buys a 10-trip ticket on or before August 19.

The following groups will be taught: beginners, intermediate swimmers, and advanced swimmers. It is important to buy the season ticket before August 19, so the swimmer can be assigned to the proper groups.

Classes will be held at 9, 10, and 11 o'clock in the morning, and at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

Beginning August 14, the outdoor pool will be open to the public from 2 until 5 o'clock and from 7 until 8:30 o'clock each day except Saturday and Sunday. On Saturday and Sunday, the pool will be closed during the day and also the evening.

Oldest Citizen of Canyon Treated to First Plane Ride

The oldest citizen in Randall county became the oldest passenger to take off from West Texas State Flying Field when Mr. J. W. Prichard took his first ride last week.

Mr. Prichard is 94 years, 8 months old, and had never been in a plane before. He came back to earth with a broad smile on his face, and said that he had enjoyed his trip through the sky.

Mr. Prichard is just 94 years older than the youngest passenger to take a ride at the field. One eight months old youngster has the honor of being the youngest passenger. G. W. Cox returned Tuesday from Fort Worth, with a new Aeronca plant which is to be used in the pilot training courses at the field.

Virgil Ohmstead has returned to the field as chief mechanic. He was associated with the field while the detachment of Air Force men was stationed here.

Dr. Pierle Talked on Chemical Industry at Rotary Luncheon

At the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday, Dr. C. A. Pierle discussed the possibilities of the chemical industry in the Panhandle. The people of the Panhandle do not receive all of the benefits from our natural resources. Only a few out of a possible large number of industries in this area have chemistry as their basic function of operations. Very few of the natural resources of this territory are processed in this area. Most of our raw materials are shipped to other parts of the country, processed and shipped back to us.

If these processing operations were carried on locally our chemical industry could more nearly serve the people in a manner which would be more beneficial to our territory.

The most promising chemical industry in this territory is the processing of our own agricultural products, stated the speaker. Visitors were: Fred DeCoster, E. Kancker, Forrest Barnes and Malcolm Pierce, all of Amarillo; Winston Savage of Pampa; Hampton Lisle and Sam Johnson of Canyon.

The proposed road will run due north from Anton and join Highway 60 at Umbarger, with only about half of a mile jog in the entire stretch. Randall county farmers along the route have already signified their approval by agreeing to permit the State right-of-way through their property.

Also at the meeting were representatives of the Randall County Farm Bureau, and the City Commission and both have adopted resolutions approving the road.

Leather Factory Doing Business

One of the new establishments in Canyon is the Superior Arts Company, owned by Warren E. Parker and Frank Fabrizio. Their plant is now in working shape, putting out various leather products, either plain or with a detailed hand-carved design.

As soon as some new machinery is received, the managers plan to inaugurate a company that will employ steadily at least seventy-five people. Also, when the new machinery is available for production, leather products such as luggage, embossed belts and hat boxes can be made. Mrs. Frank Fabrizio is in charge of production at the present time, and is general manager of the staff.

Distributed through the Pyramid Sales Company in Amarillo, the Superior Arts is already producing several styles of ladies' purses, ladies' and men's billfolds, and ladies' and men's belts with buckles. Soon the merchandise manufactured here will have the name of Canyon, Texas on it, so that buyers and consumers all over the nation will know it is made here.

Through the kind co-operation and assistance of Alvin McDonald, Clarence Thompson and other local citizens, the Superior Arts Company has found housing for its business and has been kindly welcomed to Canyon.

When the legislature convenes for the regular session in January Senator Grady Hazlewood will have a completely new group of Representatives in the House to work with.

During the fall the legislative delegation from the Panhandle will be entertained for a day of West Texas State in order that the members may have a first hand knowledge of the needs of the institution when it comes to appropriations.

No Rain, With Hot, Dry Weather Over the County

The temperature stays high in Randall county. No rain has fallen during the past week in any section of the county.

Unless heavy rains are received at once there is little chance for a row crop.

So far there has been no blowing in the county, but with the continued dry weather there is danger of dust storm this fall and winter.

SING SONG MEETING

The Randall County Sing Song Band will meet Sunday, August 18 at Fairview at 2:30 o'clock. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Breittling returned Friday from a two weeks visit in several places in East Texas. Mr. Breittling has worked in the court house for ten years, and this is the first vacation he has taken in seven years. He had the pleasure of seeing his only brother that he had not seen in 21 years.

C. B. Shappard is here from Chanute Field, Ill., where he is an instructor. He formerly lived in Canyon and was here looking after business.

Look who's here! None other than our old friend, the Palo Duro State Park—and up for sale once more.

After the sale was called off last month, it was announced from Austin that the Attorney General had approved a deal whereby the Texas State Parks Board would assume the debt against the land and that the Park would continue as in the past.

Folks in the Panhandle sat back with a sigh of relief. The Palo Duro Park had been saved—again! Everything was fine and dandy.

On Saturday notices were again posted for the sale of the excess land, about 15,000, on September 3 at the court house door in Canyon!

Dick Craig, former State Representative from Miami and now in the law office of Senator C. C. Small in Austin, was here to post the notices. He explained the situation this way:

The lien owners had reduced the debt against the land; the Texas State Parks Board submitted the proposal to the Attorney General and received a favorable opinion; the Parks Board agreed to take over the land and operate the Park, but so far have taken no action. The lien holders are forced to protect their interest in the land since they can get no satisfaction out of the Parks Board. Thus the notices are posted again, and unless the Parks Board gets busy and completes the deal before September 3 the land will be sold.

Mr. Craig states that his clients recognize the fact that the State have a valid deed to the 120 acres where the improvements are located and to the right-of-way, but there are more than 15,000 acres to which the State has no claim.

Editorials

We called attention to the fact a few weeks ago that for a supposedly educated man, Dr. Homer P. Rainey was kicking the truth around most violently. He glibly stated that all members of the Board of Regents of the University of Texas were either Republicans or Texas Regulars. His hand was called, since David M. Warren, publisher of the Panhandle Herald and vice president of the University Board of Regents, went right down the line for Roosevelt, even for his fourth term. Now Dr. Rainey kicks the truth around once more. We do not know where he got his degress, or why he should claim to be such a scholarly gentleman. He states that no member of the Texas Railroad Commission has ever been elected governor, or to a high office by the people of Texas. He thus infers that the people will not elect Beauford Jester. Rainey certainly has not studied the political history of Texas. If he knew anything about Texas history, or had taken the time to ask some of the politically wise, he would have found that O. B. Colquitt was elected governor while serving on this commission; and he would likewise have found that Earle B. Mayfield was elected United States Senator while serving on this Commission. He cannot read Jester out of the running by any such tactics. Did Rainey think that the people of Texas were so ignorant of the history of Texas that they would not see his blunder; or is he actually so ignorant of Texas history that he did not know the truth? The voters will determine on August 24.

Candidates in the second primary are truly worried. So far little steam has been shown for the runoff campaign. Maybe the people have so definitely made up their minds that it takes no power of persuasion to induce them to go to the polls. But most of the candidates are worried. If the voters fail to go to the polls on August 24 a minority may elect the officers for the coming two years. This would be bad for the majority. As a matter of fact in many counties of Texas not more than 50 percent of the qualified voters went to the polls in the first primary. If there is a decline in the second primary, a minority will select our public officials in spite of the will of the majority. Too many citizens of Texas take their obligations of citizenship altogether too lightly. If they lived in Europe they would probably be fighting for a chance to vote. But in Texas they ignore their responsibility and their pleasure of citizenship, and then cuss the elected officers for not doing what they think should be done.

The teacher situation is the most critical in the history of the nation. A few years ago it was the question of selection of teachers as it came time for the fall session to open. Administrators had no fear for a good school year, with a full faculty during the entire year. Conditions are different today. As the school term nears the opening date, there are few schools which may claim a full and qualified teaching staff. Who is to blame? Well, the public has too long taken the school for granted. The public has paid high taxes for its school, often under protest, and demanded more and more of the school, while likewise demanding that teachers work for low wages. "For the love of their profession." The only way out is for a revision of teachers' salaries upward. Where will we get the money? From the same place we have always gotten the money, from our own pockets! If we want good schools, we must pay for them. If we are content with inferior schools, we will continue along the same lines of the past, and pay lower salaries than are paid in industry and business. We hear the charge that every high school wants to become a first class college; and maintain too expensive athletic program; and that money by the thousands of dollars is wasted in useless activities. Maybe these charges are true to a great extent. It is time that school men and citizens get together with a clear and frank discussion of school affairs before the school system gets into worst condition than it is today.

President Truman won his "purge" in Missouri. Whether wise or unwise the purge and the issues were for the people of Missouri to decide. The President called upon his old Pendergast machine friends and the CIO to help him defeat a Congressman who was not acceptable to him. This is the feature which makes many people wonder. The President should not become too elated over his success. What the people of Missouri will accept from their old neighbor, the President of the United States, may not be true in other instances. When Roosevelt tried a purge, he was often whipped. Pappy O'Daniel, while the popular governor of Texas, tried to purge those who blocked his program in the legislature, but failed. He failed again in trying to induce the people to vote against Roosevelt. The voters usually resent interference from the President, no matter how popular he may be.

The Republicans are losing no time in making the most of the national strike situation. The veto of the Case bill is going to have wide effects in the coming election. The labor racketeers will demand that their followers vote the Democratic ticket, while industry will follow the Republican flag. In other elections labor voted more solidly than industry. The farmers, teachers, small business men, professional men, together with the white collared workers hold the balance of power. They are the ones who have suffered the most while capital and labor have been fighting. They are the ones who are paying the bill, and they may express their opinion at the ballot box. While Texas settles its political disputes in the primaries, the people of this state will look with interest upon the national picture as the voters in other states go to the polls in November to elect members of a new Congress. The Republicans claim they will have a majority in the next House. The Democrats claim the party will continue its control. We will see what we shall see.

Members of the State Democratic Committee are worried about the future of their jobs. Letters have come to Canyon, not addressed to any of the legally elected delegates to the state convention in September, urging that these citizens procure proxies from the Randall county delegation. Since the Randall county convention condemned the actions of the state committee for its political actions in trying to elect Rainey and to punish McDonald, it is pretty certain that the big city boys will not succeed in their plan to get proxies for the purpose of perpetuating themselves in office, if Beauford Jester is elected governor.

Veterans beware! The sharks are after you, and the money that you brought out of the service. All kinds of phoney schemes are being devised to fleece the vets. Practically every veteran wants to get into some sort of business, regardless of his lack of training. For that reason all kinds of promotional schemes are being devised. The veteran will be required to put all of his money and all of the money that his family can borrow in order to get an exclusive territory, or an exclusive agency. Before you go into any schemes, please consult your banker, or a hard headed business or professional man. If there are merits to the scheme your friends will be glad to advise you. Since these men have been confronted by all such schemes in the past, they will gladly advise you if the thing smells badly. Don't put up your money until you know that you are right. And the same thing applies with families which have lost sons or fathers in the war and are drawing government insurance and benefits. The grafters are after you. Be careful. It is reported that there are more grafters at large right now in this nation than ever before. They have devised a lot of new schemes to get your money. After World War I they sold worthless bonds of defunct European nations. Today they have a new line of graft. Do not give up your money until you have made these promoters show their goods, and you have gone into every detail of the project.

Guess we have never supported J. E. McDonald as a candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture until the July primary. We do not care for him personally, and care less about his office, which should be a part of A. & M. College. However, we intend to vote for him again in the second primary, August 24 because of the actions of the State Democratic Committee. J. E. McDonald has fought the New Deal program of destruction of food in order to create necessity. We have believed that the Wallace-Roosevelt theory of scarcity was wrong. He did not hide his displeasure. He openly supported the Republican candidates for President. He may have been wrong in continuing to hold a Democratic office and criticize the misdeeds of the heads of his own party. Which is better that the party to be criticised by its own members, or that the members remain dumb, and allow the Republicans to do the hollering? McDonald is not vocally dumb. The State Committee is trying to defeat him by putting up an candidate with a similar name, "R." E. McDonald. We served with J. E. McDonald in the legislature. We do not know the other McDonald, but have seen his picture—and that is enough.

Beauford Jester continues to conduct his campaign for Governor on a high plane. During the first primary he refused to stoop to mudslinging, as the other candidates were doing. During the runoff he maintains this same policy. In spite of all of the attacks from Rainey, who is trying to draw Jester into a political brawl, Jester continues talking peace, harmony and industrial development in Texas. Rainey was kicked out as president of the University of Texas for inefficiency, and because he kept things in an uproar. If the people should unwittingly follow the voters of CIO, the negroes, and the hell-raising school teachers of the state who are backing Rainey, we shall have a continuation of the same turbulent conditions in the state capitol. Rainey could not get along with nine men on his board of regents; just how could you expect him, his spirit of revenge, to get along with 181 members of the legislature and with hundreds of state employees who are clothed with the authority and responsibility of running the affairs of the state? If you want a constructive administration rather than a destructive administration, vote for Beauford Jester.

Prepare to weep: The so-called educational director of the State Democratic Committee has resigned to devote her entire time to the campaign of Rainey. A former social worker in New York she came to Texas to tell the Democrats how to run the state—especially to induce the Negroes to vote for Rainey. However, she did not resign until Attorney General Sellers threatened to make a fight on the state committee during the coming state convention for its support of Rainey. Sellers proved that this "educational director" was using state committee letter heads to write to friends, and was devoting her entire time and the prestige of her position to the Rainey campaign. Her resignation proves the statement of Sellers. We hope that no future state committee will be foolish enough to appoint another "educational director."

Wonder why it is that so many voters take the time to scratch out the names of unopposed candidates on the election ballot? This happens in every election. No doubt some voters have a pet peeve at the candidates and mark out the names with the spirit of vengeance. But the best one yet was a Randall county voter who went to the polls in the July primary and scratched out the names of every candidate on the ballot. When he got through his ballot was a complete blank. A little satisfaction? Maybe!

Since Justice Jackson is home from Germany where he is chief prosecutor in the German war crime trial, it is expected that the war between Justice Jackson and Justice Hugo Black of the Supreme Court will be resumed. If nine men, who are supposed to know the law, cannot get along in the interpretation of the law, just how can 140,000,000 people be expected to view the maze of law with which they are confronted daily?

This drouth is world-wide. No nation is escaping. While the war took a toll of millions of men, the drouth is taking a toll of many more millions, chiefly women and children. Those who argued that the world was overpopulated are having their arguments answered in a decisive manner. Nature has a way of paying off those who think that they are bigger than the Ruler of the universe.

Writer in Life Magazine proposes that every defeated candidate be hanged. Some voters, and even some of the defeated candidates might agree that this might be a good way to get rid of undesirable citizens who insist on running for public office with no hope of getting elected. Witness the 14 candidates for governor, with only six making any sort of campaign.

The voters of West Texas gave a wonderful vote to Boyce House for lieutenant governor in the first primary. Mr. House has written The News thanking the voters of Randall county for the fine support he received in the July primary. We believe that the voters will go to the polls again on August 24 and support Boyce House in the second primary.

We thought that the government wasted paper unnecessarily during the war. Now the bureaucrats are engaged in additional waste in various departments by publishing reports as to how wasteful they really were—using additional vital paper.

We guess that Uncle Sam will continue losing his shirt as he backs up the demands of Britain while it seeks to maintain its world empire.

New England Rated Healthiest Place

Opinion Comes From Dean Of Harvard Health School.

BOSTON.—The northeastern section of the United States — comprised of New England and northeastern New York — is the most healthful place to live.

That's the opinion of acting dean Edward G. Huber of the Harvard school of public health, who said that region's changeable climate "tends to develop one intellectually as well as physically."

Dr. Huber said that despite all the jokes made about New England weather, it actually acts as a stimulus to the population and therefore makes the region a desirable place in which to live.

However, he added, climate has very little to do with the amount of disease prevalent in any given area. It's what you do in that climate and what precautions you take to guard your health that are important, he explained.

"I can almost say that a region is as healthful as its local boards of health are efficient," he said. "Massachusetts and Connecticut have excellent boards of health, for instance, and they're both good places to live."

Certain sections of the country which are widely known for their health-giving properties don't — in most cases — deserve their reputations, Dr. Huber asserted.

"California, for instance, I don't take much stock in all that talk their chamber of commerce gives out. For example, they have more malaria in California than we do in New England."

As for going to Arizona to cure tuberculosis, that's a common fallacy, too, according to Dr. Huber. His thesis is that a victim can be cured in a sanitarium in Massachusetts as quickly as he would be anywhere else.

"There's a lot of superstition and wrong information about most diseases," he said. "A person living on a hill in the country is just as well off as he would be taking a cure for tuberculosis in Arizona or New Mexico or Denver, Colo."

"It's not necessary to seek an ideal climate—the important thing is getting the correct treatment."

Allan Shivers Is People's Favorite

Senator Allan Shivers, in thanking the voters of Texas for the lead they gave him in the July primary to make him the favorite candidate for lieutenant governor, also warned citizens that attempts will be made by "scheming minority pressure groups" to defeat him in the August 24 run-off.

The Jefferson County legislator, lawyer and farmer, pointed with pride to the overwhelming support which he received in his present home county and in the county where he was reared to manhood. Shivers, a World War II combat veteran (the only veteran in this race), polled approximately 75% of the votes in Jefferson County, his present home, and was a 25 to 1 favorite over his runoff opponent in Tyler County, where he spent his youth. Senator Shivers led his runoff opponent by approximately 100,000 votes in Texas.

"I am deeply grateful for the confidence the people of Texas have shown in me and the progressive program for Texas which I advocate," Shivers said "I shall strive even harder to work for the welfare of Texas."

"Because I represent the masses of the people, there will be those in the runoff campaign who will conspire to defeat me," Shivers predicted. "I will not be swayed by these radical, minority groups—the C.I.O. noisemakers in particular. My opponent is welcome to the support which they are giving him. I will continue to fight for the right and welfare and progress of our people who make up the backbone of Texas."—Pol. Adv.

New Weapons Bad as Atom, Says Scientist

WASHINGTON.—W. A. Higinbotham, chairman of the Federation of Atomic Scientists, said that "there are at least two major secret weapons in existence which scientists believe are potentially as dangerous to mankind" as the atomic bomb.

He named "biological warfare" and "fission-product warfare," sometimes referred to as "atomic poison gas."

Higinbotham gave no details in his address but declared that congress should ask the war department to release the full story in the interests of peace.

"There is a passive defense for the atomic bomb," he said. "Cities and industry might be dispersed at a cost of $300,000,000,000."

"But bacteriological warfare could be used to cut off the food supply, radioactive materials could be used to trap people in bomb shelters and caves."

"Scientists say the public has a right to know more about these weapons because they are not mere inventions, they are actually a threat to the whole world—a revolution in human knowledge."

Russians Revive Nazi System of Block Leaders

BERLIN.—Soviet authorities in Saxony have authorized reinstatement, in slightly different form, of the system of block leaders, which, under Nazism, placed petty functionaries in charge of blocks of houses.

The Russian-sponsored system, going a step farther than the Nazi one, cloaks the men and women placed in charge of blocks with the powers of auxiliary police.

United States military government authorities abolished the block leader system in the American zone, asserting that it bred "little Hitlers."

TEXAS COMES FIRST!

That is the political philosophy of

Beauford Jester

of Corsicana

Candidate for GOVERNOR OF TEXAS

In his opening campaign address Beauford Jester declared:

"The Political Action Committee of the CIO is not going to dominate the people of Texas."

"I am opposed to labor monopolists as much as I am opposed to capitalistic monopolists."

"There must be no threat to the life, livelihood or property of any citizen."

"In Texas we want equal responsibility from both labor and management—responsibility to the public itself."

"I am urging the people of Texas to return to first principles in government."

"The home, the Church, and the School are the foundations of our society and well-being. As Governor of Texas I shall ever strive to strengthen these foundations of Texas."

"I am a liberal Democrat, but I am not a loose Democrat."

Beauford Jester long has been an active worker for the better things in life—church, welfare, civic development, education, agriculture and athletics. He has served with distinction on the Texas Railroad Commission. His record as a citizen and as a public official justifies his promotion to the governorship of Texas.

New Remedy for Epileptics Is Out

Was Effective in Two-Thirds of Trial Cases.

CHICAGO.—Dr. William G. Lennox of Boston declared that a still experimental drug had given "marvelous assistance" against the form of epilepsy that is most prevalent in children.

The drug is tridione (pronounced try-dye-own), and Lennox said it was effective in two-thirds of a series of cases treated for "petit mal"—the type of epilepsy in which the patient temporarily stares blankly ahead, sometimes exhibits jerky movements, and occasionally falls to the ground. He said that some of the patients had gone for as long as 15 months without having seizures.

But Lennox emphasized in a report prepared for the meeting of the American Psychiatric association that the drug was generally ineffective and even dangerous in the treatment of the more violent type of epilepsy, called "grand mal"—in which the patient falls convulsed to the ground in a violent "fit," sometimes foaming at the mouth.

Neuropsychiatric disorders have hospitalized approximately 850,000 World War II soldiers up to the first of this year—some of them more than once—but many will return to duty, the association was told by Brig. Gen. William C. Menninger, the army's chief of psychiatry.

He said also that 500,000 men were discharged from the army for "personality disturbances" of all types, and that approximately 1,875,000 men were rejected for military service for the same reasons.

Asserting that psychoses—the most serious types of mental disorders—constituted only 7 per cent of all neuropsychiatric cases hospitalized, Menninger said the army observed an "unexpectedly high recovery rate for psychotic patients who so often become custodial patients in civilian hospitals." During 1945, he said, 7 of every 10 psychotic hospital admissions were "able to be discharged home."

Sea Lion Goes to Dogs; but in Pound

OAKLAND, CALIF.—Harry Fish had a wild but stagestruck sea lion in his bathtub.

Fishing on the reefs of Bolinas bay but finding none, Fish captured the half-grown member of the seal tribe, sacked the animal and brought it home for his 12-year-old daughter, Lucy Ann, who named it Selmer.

Selmer left his new home for a stroll and stopped to put on a free show on a neighbor's driveway. The neighbor called the police.

Police called to dog-catcher. Selmer was nabbed, the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals was notified, and the sea lion landed in the pound.

The dogs apparently didn't fancy sea lion entertainment, and so Selmer was returned and locked up this time in the Fish family bathroom.

Average Hour Earnings Reach Peak in March

NEW YORK.—Average hourly earnings in 25 industries in March reached a new peak of $1.14, or 50.9 per cent above January, 1941, 59 per cent above August, 1939, and 94.1 per cent above the 1929 average, the National Industrial conference board said recently.

The board said average weekly earnings, after a year's decline, turned upward in March to $46.44, against $30.61 in January, 1941.

Average hours per week rose in March to 40.7, or 1.2 per cent more than in January, 1941, but 15.7 per cent shorter than in 1929. Pay rolls, with 1923 used by the board as 100, had dropped sharply for a year to 171.1 in February, but recovered in March to 189.9.

Blame Rodents and Insects For Shortage of Grain

WASHINGTON.—There is more than enough grain in the world to feed all hungry people—except for mice, bugs and other pests.

A group of scientists reported to the United Nations food and agriculture organization (FAO) that rodents, insects, mice and fungi molds destroy, after harvest, one-tenth of the 725,000,000 tons of cereals, peas, beans and oil seeds, produced each year.

Thus this year's estimated loss of 72,500,000 tons is more than seven times the 10,000,000 tons of wheat the world will be short this year.

The scientists said handling methods must be "enormously improved," especially at the farmer level, to reduce losses.

Yank Weddings in Japan Must Meet Jap Civil Law

TOKYO.—Occupation headquarters ruled recently that American personnel married in Japan must abide by the Japanese civil code to establish legality of their wedlock. It ordered the Japanese to arrange "mutually satisfactory mechanical procedure for registration of the marriages of American citizens." There have been few marriages of Americans and Japanese during occupation.

The Goodnight Trail

By EVETTS HALEY
Canyon, Texas

Cowman, historian and author of "Charles Goodnight, Cowman and Plainsman" and other Southwestern books

By far the most important course for cattle westward from Texas was the Goodnight Trail—a trail burned deep into the memories of men by bloody Indian warfare, droughty drives and dying cattle, dry water holes and alkali dust, tragic death and bitter disappointment. It began on the Cross Timber frontier of Texas in 1866; it frizzled out on the ranges of New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming in the late eighties.

It developed from the historic fact that at the end of the Civil War the blockaded ranges of Texas were overrun with Longhorn cattle, coupled with the further fact that in a time when no other means of transportation was available they could carry themselves to any distant market.

In the troubled days of 1866 when only the brave and vigorous would venture, Charles Goodnight and Oliver Loving, prominent frontiersmen in Texas, left the border with a herd in search of a market. They circled the worst of the Comanche country in the Panhandle of Texas by swinging south and west down the old trace of the Butterfield Southern Mail, through what is now the Abilene and San Angelo country. They crossed to the Pecos at Horsehead and turned up that salty and unsettled stream to the first habitation upon it, Fort Sumner, New Mexico, where the Navajo tribe was corralled by the army, and where the drivers sold their cattle.

Then with characteristic frontier vision and bold enterprise, they pushed later extensions of their trail across Trinchera Pass in the Raton Mountains, skirted the foothills of the Greenhorns, crossed the Arkansas at Pueblo, pointed their herds for weary miles across the Great and High Plains and left Texas cattle, ways of work, and tales and talk on the virgin grass around Cheyenne. Other branches turned off to take the cowboy and his herds to the arid ranges of Arizona, and even the lush grasslands of the Pacific Coast. For the Texans without markets a boom in beef began to flourish along the Goodnight Trail.

But troubles swept in like the Southwest wind. The Comanches came down from the Plains to depredate, and the Mesquero Apaches lurked on the left flank in New Mexico. They stampeded many cattle and killed and scalped many men. Near present Carlsbad they wounded and killed Oliver Loving who helped open the trail, and whose name is perpetuated in a Texas County and a New Mexico town.

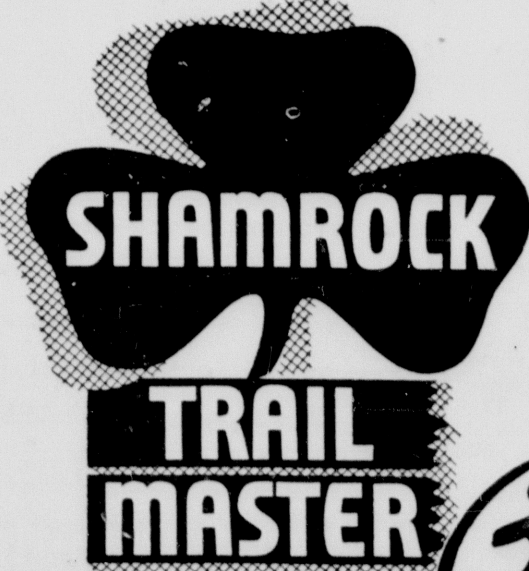

Some seventy years later New Mexico marked the Goodnight Trail across the state, and the Legislature of Texas commemorated its founder by designating the pavement into the Palo Duro Park, where the great pioneer had come as the Panhandle's first ranchman in 1876, as the modern Goodnight Trail.

Thus out of the travail and tragedy of its founders, and its dimming traces cut in grama-clad soil by the flinty hoofs of its thousands of longhorns, come historic memories of bold and venturesome spirits—memories to enrich the trips of all who comfortably glide along the Southwest's marked and modern trails.

GERALDINE SKARKE IS BRIDE OF RAYMOND GERBER

The wedding of Miss Geraldine Skarke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Skarke of Umbarger, and Raymond Gerber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gerber of Nazareth, was solemnized Tuesday morning, August 6 at St. Mary's Church in Umbarger. Rev. J. J. Krukkert officiated for the double ring ceremony.

Traditional wedding marches were played by the organist, Ernest Holenstein. High mass was sung by the choir, and the choir also sang "Ave Maria," at the request of the bride.

Altars were decorated with garden flowers. Pink satin bows marked the pews reserved for the parents and relatives.

The bride was attired in a white dress of marquisette with lace insertions. A two-tiered illusion veil edged in lace was held in place with a beaded crown of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas, showered with white satin steamers. Her three stands of pearls were a gift from her mother.

Bridesmaids were Miss Lucy Ann Skarke, sister of the bride, and Miss Mary Ball, niece of the groom. They wore identical dresses of green and pink net. Both carried bouquets of pink sweet peas.

Best men were Leonard and Henry Gerber, brothers of the groom.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride. The table was covered with a lace tablecloth and on the centerpiece was a three-tiered wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. Gerber attended school in Umbarger and Canyon. She has been employed in Amarillo for the last eight months. Mr. Gerber attended school in Nazareth. He spent three and one-half years in the United States Navy. He is now employed at the Smelter in Amarillo.

The couple will be at home in Amarillo.

Don't believe all you hear and read about "run away" food prices. All stores do not operate the same way nor do all stores sell at the same prices. Take COOPER'S for example. Our business was built by always giving the finest quality foods at the lowest possible prices. AND WE'RE STILL DOING IT! Where prices have been forced up by conditions beyond our control, we have kept the increases at the absolute minimum. Wake Civilians Paid Off After Four Long Years
SEATTLE.—A long delayed payday came for 115 civilian workmen who were captured by the Japs on Wake Island nearly four years ago. The men, who returned here aboard an army transport, received checks for $1,083 each from the federal government. In addition to federal payments the men will receive all their back pay from the Pacific Naval Air Bases, by whom they were employed. Some estimate they will get $8,000 or better.

BUSIER TELEPHONES DELAY THE OPERATOR'S ANSWER

Lately you may have found your telephone operator's "Number, please?" delayed a few seconds. It is because the telephone system here is extra busy. Her voice will come on the line in just a few seconds, usually, if you will wait.

We are doing all we can to bring service back to prewar standards, but to help tide over this period of telephone shortages we have had to stretch the present telephone system—stretch it to serve more families.

This crowds the switchboard at times with more calls than can be handled quickly, especially in mid-morning and early evening. Only so many operators can be seated at the switchboards, so when calling is quite heavy, some telephones cannot be answered as quickly.

However, more people who would otherwise still be waiting now have service. Others will have telephones as soon as we can get switchboards in and working. It is not a short or easy job but we are glad to report it is getting on.

Evetts Haley's Story of Goodnight Made Shamrock Feature

J. Evetts Haley, cowman, historian and author of Canyon, tells the story of the famous old cattle route, "The Goodnight Trail," which appears in the News today. It is the second in a series of advertising featuring historical Southwestern trails by the Shamrock Oil and Gas Corporation and independent Shamrock dealers in the Southwest.

The author's parents moved west from Bell county to Midland when he was a baby and this is where he grew up. He went into the cattle business while a kid and has been in it ever since. Receiving his degree from West Texas State at Canyon, he did graduate work and served on the history faculty at the University of Texas and later was field secretary for the Pan-fund from 1925 to 1929.

Mr. Haley's interest in history started around camp fires during his youth when he heard old cattlemen and cowboys tell stories of the West. Later he got the notion of doing historical research and writing about the Southwest while studying history in college. His first book was "KIT Ranch," followed by "Charles Goodnight, Cowman and Plainsman," "George Littlefield, Texan," and "Charles Schreiner: General Merchandise—Story of a County Store." While working on a current biography of an old time Texas rancher and peace officer, Haley operates his ranch near Adobe Walls on the Canadian River.

Harold Bugbee, noted Southwestern artist, has depicted the scene on the Goodnight Trail.

The peppermint crop is reported good, and there is some hope of more sugar by Christmas. Now if there's plenty of striped red paint, we may have candy canes on the tree again.

Lot-Price Rise Bar to Housing

Wyatt Cites 400-City Study Showing 300% Leap in Cost of Plots.

WASHINGTON. — Inflated prices of home sites threaten to become the biggest barrier to low-cost housing for veterans and other prospective home buyers, says Wilson W. Wyatt, housing expediter.

Prices of lots and residential acreage have increased even faster than the prices of houses. This is not limited to a few big, over-crowded cities. Some small cities report a greater increase than the large cities.

A survey of more than 400 cities by the national housing agency indicates that from September, 1945, to February, 1946, the price of lots went up an average of 23.3 per cent. In the six years from 1940 to 1946 the average price advance was 61.8 per cent. A lot which sold for $800 in 1940 brought about $1,288 last winter.

Lots Up 300 Per Cent.
In some small cities prices for lots and acreage soared 300 per cent during the war—for example, from $800 to $2,400. One-half of the cities reporting in the NHA survey indicated lot and land prices had advanced 50 per cent or more.

Prices of existing houses which sold for less than $6,000 in 1940 increased an average of 65 per cent by 1946. Prices in the $6,000-$12,000 class rose 57 per cent. Most communities reported that the rate of increase was turning upward sharply early this year. This is not the whole story.

The veterans emergency housing law recently enacted by congress aims particularly at reasonably low construction costs for the 2,700,000 houses to be started by private industry in 1946 and 1947.

The law authorizes $400,000,000 in government subsidies to spur the production of building materials. Subsidies also will be paid to encourage production of new types of materials which may bring ordinary costs down.

The law also provides price ceilings on new houses and a guarantee by the government of a market for low-cost prefabricated houses.

Mr. Wyatt asked congress for ceilings on lots and on existing houses but the new law doesn't provide them.

Uncle Sam Needs Help.
Mr. Wyatt contends that while inflation in existing house prices might be tempered when the veterans' program gets going in volume, the resulting demand for a place to build new houses could force land prices to "extraordinary levels."

Mr. Wyatt says the federal government will have to get a lot of help from local communities on the housing-site problem. He suggests that one way is for local committees to see that a good portion of the new housing goes into cities themselves instead of their suburbs. He points out that in 22 cities ranging in population from 50,000 to Chicago's 4,000,000 the average percentage of total city area that is vacant is 44.7.

"Much of this land," he says, "is accessible to work centers and easily can be made desirable otherwise. Its use is now blocked by high asking prices based on an exaggerated hope of future use, scattered and complex ownership, bad land titles, unpaid taxes and inadequate play space."

NHA reports that more than 200 mayor's emergency housing committees are working on some of these problems.

The maximum ceiling on new homes is $10,000 for a single-family dwelling and $80 a month for a rental unit.

A Texas classic is the "Babe of the Alamo" speech made many years ago, by Gov. M. Bryan in the House of Representatives:

I intended, Mr. Speaker to be silent on this occasion, but silence would now be a reproach, when to speak is a duty. No one has raised a voice in behalf of this orphan child; several have spoken against her claim. I rise, Sir, in behalf of no common cause. Liberty was its foundation, heroism and martyrdom consecrated it. I speak for the orphan child of the Alamo.

No orphan children of fallen patriots can send a similar petition to this House—none save her can say, "I am the Child of the Alamo."

Well do I remember the consternation which spread throughout the land when the sad tidings reached our ears that the Alamo had fallen! It was here that a gallant few, the bravest of the brave, threw themselves betwixt the enemy and the settlements, determined not to surrender nor retreat. They redeemed that pledge with the forfeit of their lives—they fell, the chosen sacrifice to Texas freedom!

Texas, unapprised of the approach of the invader, was sleeping in fancied security, when the gun of the Alamo first announced that the Attila of the South was near. Infuriated at the resistance of Travis and his noble band, he marshaled his whole army beneath the walls, and rolled wave after wave of his hosts against those battlements of freedom. In vain he strove; the flag of liberty—the Lone Star of Texas—still streamed out upon the breeze and floated proudly from the outer wall. Maddened and persistent, he rear-d his batteries and, days of furious bombardment and repeated assaults, he took a blackened and ruined mass—the blood-stained walls of the Alamo. The noble, the martyred spirits of all its gallant defenders had taken their flight to another fortress, not made with hands.

But for this stand at the Alamo, Texas would have been desolated to the Sabine. Sir, I ask this pit-tance, and for whom? For the only living witness, save the mother, of this awful tragedy—"this blood-iest picture in the book of time," the bravest act that ever swelled the annals of any country.

Grant the boon! She claims it as the Christian child of the Alamo—baptized in the blood of a Travis, a Bowie, a Crockett and a Bon-ham. To turn her away would be a shame! Give her what she asks, that she may be educated and be-come a worthy child of the State—that she may take that position in society to which she is entitled by the illustrious name of her martyred father—illustrious be-cause he fell in the Alamo.

Washington Newsletter

By Congressman Gene Worley

On July 1, by 8 o'clock, we were circling Bikini lagoon around 8000 feet altitude and were in the 10 to 20 mile zone as we had been in-structed to be the previous night at the briefing. The first zone extended to 10 miles and the second 10 to 20 and an Army man estimated we were approximately 13 miles from the spot where the bomb was to explode, which is about the same distance the plane was when the bomb was dropped at Hiroshima. We were provided with a pair of the darkest glasses I've ever seen. It was impossible to see anything through them but they were a necessary precaution against temporary blindness from the illumination of the bomb it-self. We were also outfitted with life preservers and parachutes, as well as a small piece of film which was designed to reflect any radio-activity which might come in our direction. The bombardier was about 25,000 feet at 8:30 and had already made one "dry" run. At that time a cloud was over the tar-get and he advised he would make the final run at exactly 9 o'clock if possible. By virtue of an ex-cel-lent radio timing hookup all ships and planes in the air were in-formed the instant the bomb was released. At exactly 9 o'clock, word came over our hookup, "Bomb away!" the warning bell rang, the black glasses were immediately put in place and everyone sat with tense expectation because it hard-ly takes more than a minute for a bomb to drop 25,000 feet. An Army Colonel had said our plane would receive a heavy jolt when the bomb exploded and accordingly all of us were braced for it. I personally felt nothing stronger than what I thought was an air pocket but other members said they thought it was somewhat worse. At any rate, I saw the most brilliant flash of light even through those dark glasses I've ever seen. You couldn't tell whether the bomb had hit its target but immediately upon removing the glasses, we saw the most brilliant white and almost solid column of churning smoke climbing straight up into the air. We could see all ships still afloat but within a few minutes one had sunk, three were listing and burn-ing and almost peculiar and fan-tastic green color was spreading on the water just over one of the air-craft carriers close to the target. One of the men aboard our plane who had been at the New Mexico bomb experiment said the ground out there had turned practically the same color. In and out of the tremendous column of smoke we could see the Army and Navy "drone" airplanes flying through the smoke clouds. These airplanes were controlled by radio and were equipped with all sorts of devices to test the heat, radioactivity, and everything else of a scientific na-ture which might have been gen-erated by the explosion. This in itself was weird and it was almost unbelievable that the drone air-plane could maneuver almost as perfectly as if a human hand were at the controls.

aboard was airfrut--ETAOIINNII

Our pilot and most everyone aboard was inquisitive so we edged in as close as we could for a bet-ter view and circled the lagoon and ever-heightening smoke column for about half an hour before re-turning to Kwajalein.

As another precaution all air-craft traffic within a radius of 500 miles surrounding Bikini had been frozen for a 24-48 period on ac-count of the possible dangers of radio-activity. As we left, the top part of the cloud had reached an approximate altitude of 35,000 feet and was slowly dissipating. Due to the shortage of time we had pre-viously been given permission to leave Kwajalein for Guam immed-ately if we assumed whatever radio-activity hazards were pre-sent, which we did. I understand most everyone back in the United States had heard an on-the-scene description by radio but it was rather garbled. I understand also a number of people had express-ed disappointment over the power of this bomb, but so far as I am concerned, it is by far the most destructive power man has ever had a hand in. This view was shared by all of the military and naval personnel with whom I talk-ed.

Curbs to Stay Half of 1947

Americans to Receive Less Bread, Meat, Whisky And Beer for Year.

WASHINGTON.—The wheat program announced by the government will mean continued skimping on bread, meat, beer and whisky for over a year to help food hungry people abroad. Furthermore the bread will continue to be "dark" and it will come in small loaves.

Previously the government had hoped to lift the restrictions on wheat, flour, etc., this summer after the 1946 wheat crop is harvested. The new announcement means that the curbs will not be abolished before the summer of 1947, unless there is a change in the situation.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson said the plan might be changed later. But at the moment, he said, it "is regarded as necessary to insure the most effective distribution and use of the 1946 crop, in meeting both domestic and foreign needs."

Less for Americans.

The way it sizes up, the program will provide considerably less wheat for food for the American dinner table during the 12 months beginning July 1, 1946, as compared with the year that began July 1, 1945. It will provide about half as much wheat for feeding to livestock—that means less meat—and none at all for brewing and distilling.

Officials have said that heavy feeding of wheat to stock was chiefly responsible for bringing on an acute shortage of the grain.

Even with the slashes in domestic consumption, Anderson figured that exports of wheat to famine areas will drop from around 400 million bushels to 25 million bushels.

To make sure of getting the 250 million bushels, the government will requisition a fourth of all the wheat that producers deliver to elevators or commercial buyers.

Most other food savings devices, both compulsory and voluntary, will be retained until July 1, 1947, under Anderson's program. Under the voluntary system, consumers are asked to eat 40 per cent less wheat products.

The Flour Situation.

The flour situation shaped up this way:

On May 1 mills were required to cut their stocks to a 21-day supply. Few if any have been able to obtain wheat in the meantime because the government is offering farmers a bonus of 30 cents a bushel above the ceiling price—which is the top legitimate price millers may offer. And the 1946 wheat will not start moving to market until July.

Some mills have already shut down and a survey indicated many others either will close or curtail operations sharply.

This prospect posed two problems for the government:

Will flour stocks on hand be sufficient to supply consumers until the new wheat crop becomes available?

Should the government divert some of the famine relief wheat it is buying to American mills in order to keep them operating until the new harvest?

U. S. Army Offers Duty To National Guard Men

WASHINGTON.—The army recently offered active military duty to 6,400 National Guard and reserve officers who volunteer to serve at home or abroad at least until mid-1947.

The quotas include 4,400 air forces and service force officers in addition to 2,000 who will be accepted for the ground forces. The air force quota, however, consists only of 150 nonpilot technical specialists.

The war department explained that the officers accepted would replace those who were eligible for separation and added that it was planned to follow this policy of service until the army attained a permanent postwar status.

Qualified former WAC officers and hospital dieticians as well as reserve and National Guard officers are eligible for recall to active duty.

Victims of Atom Bomb Explosions Doing Well

TOKYO.—Imperial University Scientist Masao Tsuzuki, after a nine-day survey of four hospitals containing the victims of the Hiroshima atom bombing, predicted that the majority of those injured and burned would recover before fall.

He classified ailments resulting from the blast as "painful scars, nervous disorders and effects on the feminine constitution," and said all three categories were progressing toward a stage where more effective medical treatment was possible.

Non-Profit Mental Health Foundation Is Organized

PHILADELPHIA.—A non-profit national mental health foundation, designed to seek treatment for an estimated 8 million Americans "in need of psychiatric care and treatment," has been organized.

Sponsors of the foundation include Mrs. Truman, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, Pearl S. Buck, Helen Hayes, Henry R. Luce, Sidney Hillman, Dr. Thomas Parran and Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas.

Must Guard the Health of Citizens In Peace Times

In discussing the possible danger of inflation to the American way of life, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has declared that he believes one phase of this menace which should not be overlooked is the danger of inflation in the incidence of disease.

"Just because we have won a war is no reason why we should allow the disease and death rates in the country to become higher than in recent peacetimes," Dr. Cox said. "Indeed, it is an urgent reason why we should sharply reduce these rates among our people and use every effort to keep the health levels among our civilian and military population at their highest possible peak."

The State Health Officer emphasized once again, as he has often done in the past, the necessity for using the more easily accessible, common-sense safeguards of health. Immunization against several of the more killing diseases is available to all, at little or no cost. Such protection should not be neglected and the person who allows himself or his family to suffer from a preventable illness is, whether he realizes it or not, actually handicapping the nation's reconversion effort. Another health precaution which can and should be practiced in every home and community is careful sanitation; clean clothes, a clean body, and clean home environments do much to prevent the appearance of illness in the home and the same sanitation practiced throughout the community will help to insure the good health of that community.

"Good, wholesome, nourishing foods, home and community sanitation, and the protection afforded by immunization can do a lot to prevent the needless inflation of the disease and death rates in this country," Dr. Cox asserted.
